Babel: Or the Necessity of Violence: An Arcane History of the Oxford Translators’ Revolution
by R. F. Kuang
(Harper Voyager)
“What power do words really have? Kuang explores this question in a unique standalone fantasy where a magical system drawn from translation and silverwork fuels colonialism. With beautiful writing and well-developed characters, this is a fabulous book. For readers of Katherine Addison, Zen Cho and N.K. Jemisin.”
—Danielle Deaver, Montgomery County Public Libraries, Bethesda, MD

The Couple at Number 9
A Novel
by Claire Douglas
(Harper Paperbacks)
“Pregnant Saffy and her partner Tom are thrilled when her ailing grandmother gives them a cottage to make their home. Until they find two bodies buried on the property. Featuring multiple points of view and realistic characters, the latest twisty thriller from Douglas will appeal to fans of tart page-turners like The Turn of the Key and The Guest List.”
—Amy Medeiros, Westport Free Public Library, Westport, MA

Daisy Darker
A Novel
by Alice Feeney
(Fiction Books)
“Darker isn’t just Daisy’s surname: it’s the mood of this closed-room mystery as Daisy’s family members die one by one at a remote island home. Deftly told, this read to Agatha Christie’s And Then There Were None mixes suspense and secrets with heartbreaking and poignant observations about family and childhood.”
—Jennifer Ohzourk, West Des Moines Public Library, West Des Moines, IA

The Sanatorium
by Sarah Pearse
(Berkley)
“Psychological thriller fans, take this to the beach! For fans of Helen Hoang and Christina Lauren.”
—Danielle Geiger, Brentwood Public Library, Brentwood, TN

Other Birds
A Novel
by Sarah Addison Allen
(St. Martin’s Press)
“To keep a connection to her late mother, Zoey moves into her old apartment on Mallow Island, S.C. The complex and its residents are character-rich, too. This book is a quick and sweet read about the stages of love from the tickle of a spark to the longing its absence can bring.”
—Sara Schettler, Scottsdale Public Library, Scottsdale, AZ

Shutter
by Ramona Emerson
(Soho Crime)
“Rita Todacheene, a crime scene photographer for the Albuquerque PD, can communicate with the dead. Her latest job involves a woman who allegedly killed herself... but she won’t leave Rita alone. A cinematic thriller set on the edge of the Navajo Nation, Emerson’s debut is a must-read.”
—Erin Downey Hawerton, Wichita Public Library, Wichita, KS

The Very Secret Society of Irregular Witches
by Sangu Mandanna
(Berkley)
“Mika is one of the few witches secretly living in Britain when someone reaches out for help teaching three young witches. She becomes entangled in the lives of her pupils and the household, including the handsome yet grouchy librarian Jaime. A cozy romance for fans of The House in the Cerulean Sea.”
—Danielle Geiger, Brentwood Public Library, Brentwood, TN

“Bee’s worked hard to get her big break leading a NASA project. However, she learns that she’ll be working with Levi, an old acquaintance who detests her. Or does he? Hazelwood’s done it again with another fantastic romance filled with the real-world struggles of being a woman in STEM. For fans of Helen Hoang and Christina Lauren.”
—Brenna Timm, High Plains Library District, Greeley, CO

NoveList read-alike: The Marriage Code by Brooke Burroughs

Find out more at www.LibraryReads.org
With fierce determination, Carrie Soto comes out of retirement to claim her title as the GOAT of tennis. Will she also use this opportunity to repair relationships with her father/coach and the other players on the tour? Jenkins Reid is at the top of her game with another winning page-turner.

_Carrie Soto Is Back_
A Novel
by Taylor Jenkins Reid
(Ballantine Books)

“This action-packed sixth book in the Hidden Legacy series features Catalina Baylor. Together with her fiancé, Alessandro, Catalina must use her full abilities to prevent a catastrophic collapse of House Baylor—and the city of Houston. This conclusion to Catalina’s story arc satisfies questions that arose earlier in the series, while leaving the door open for future installments.”

—Caroline Quaranilla, Seminole County Library, Casselberry, FL

_NovelList read-alike:_
_Shifters series by Rachel Vincent_

“Sophie Go can see red threads extending from everyone’s heart—threads that show how ready a person is for love. Despite her mom’s disapproval, Sophie aspires to use her gift to become Toronto’s premier matchmaker. When she corrals a group of elderly Chinese men in her apartment building as potential clients, she has the chance to realize her dream and break free from her overbearing mother.”

—Maureen Rothenberg, Clayton County Public Libraries, Jonesboro, GA

_NovelList read-alike:_
_Rules of Arrangement by Anisha Bhatia_

“AUGUST 2022

The LibraryReads Hall of Fame designation honors authors who have had multiple titles appear on the monthly LibraryReads list since 2013. When their third title places on the list via library staff votes, the author moves into the Hall of Fame.

—Stacy Lienemann, Waseca-Le Sueur Regional Library System, Waseca, MN

_NovelList read-alike:_
_Evvie Drake Starts Over by Linda Holmes_

—Debbie DeLouise, Hicksville Public Library, Hicksville, NY

_NovelList read-alike:_
_The Overdue Library by Louella Reynolds_

_NovelList read-alike:_
_Shifters series by Rachel Vincent_

“Liv wakes up in a cab she doesn’t recall boarding and is dropped off without her purse or phone. She dumps a bloody knife wrapped in a t-shirt and sees on her hand the message, “Stay Awake.” Liv realizes she is the prime suspect for a murder. What’s more, trauma from two years ago causes her to lose short-term memories every time she falls asleep. This thriller may cause readers to lose sleep so they can find out who is the true killer!”

—Caroline Quaranilla, Seminole County Library, Casselberry, FL

_NovelList read-alike:_
_Rules of Arrangement by Anisha Bhatia_

_NovelList read-alike:_
_Our House by Louise Candlish_

Find out more at www.LibraryReads.org