Astrid Parker Doesn’t Fail
by Ashley Herring Blake
(Berkley)

“In this follow-up to Delilah Green Doesn’t Care, Astrid is determined to bounce back from a breakup by going on a TV building reno show. When sparks fly with the show’s carpenter, Astrid is thrown, having never before considered herself queer. With a little guidance from Delilah, she follows her instincts. This is a sweet/spicy romance for fans of Casey McQuiston and Alexis Hall!”
— Amanda Chapman, Davissville Free Library, North Kingstown, RI
NoveList read-alike: Chef’s Kiss by T.J. Alexander

November 2022 - The top ten books published this month that library staff across the country love.

The Banned Bookshop of Maggie Banks
by Shauna Robinson
(Sourcebooks Landmark)

"Maggie takes a temp position at a friend’s bookstore and gets more than she bargained for when she discovers the entire town seems to revolve around the legacy of author Edward Bell. Before she knows it, she’s selling books from a secret stash, planning author events, and finding love. A fun read for fans of Abbi Waxman and Emily Henry.”
— Jaime Bink, Harford County Public Library, Whiteford, MD
NoveList read-alike: The Book Haunters’ Book Club by Gretchen Anthony

The Cloisters
A Novel
by Katy Hays
(Atria Books)

"Ann lands an internship at the Met’s Cloisters museum, where she works on an exhibit about tarot cards during the Renaissance. After Ann makes a surprising discovery, she sets in motion a series of sinister twists and turns. This great debut set in the atmospheric world of dark academia is perfect for those who loved The Ninth House and Discovery of Witches”
— Shari Suarez, Genesee District Library, Genesee, MI
NoveList read-alike: Consensual Hex by Amanda Harlowe

November (Sourcebooks Landmark)

Made in LibraryAware - www.LibraryAware.com

Find out more at www.Library Reads.org

Made in LibraryAware - www.LibraryAware.com

Find out more at www.Library Reads.org